Dear God-brothers, God-sisters, clients, and friends,

Obeisances, blessings and greetings to all of you. By Srila Prabhupada’s divine grace, may each one of us remain ever protected by the power and grace of the mahamantra:

*Hare Krishna Hare Krishna Krishna Krishna Hare Hare
Hare Rama Hare Rama Rama Rama Hare Hare*

Welcome to the ides of March! Of course the “ides of March” became famous as the day on which Julius Caesar was met his end because he failed to heed the warning “Beware the ides of March”. By the solar calendar, the ides (meaning “middle”) of the month is significant because that is when the Sun changes signs. On this day, 15 March 2010, the Sun enters Pisces. The Sanskrit term is sankranti, which also means “revolution” in the sense of drastic change. So on this day 15 Mar 2010 the Sun leaves the fixed air sign of Aquarius and enters the mutable water of Pisces or Meena, and hence is called Meena Sankranti.

However, it is likely that the Romans followed a calendar closer to the Vedic system, the lunar calendar. By divine arrangement, today is also the middle of the lunar month. According to the Gaudiya Vaishnava system which we follow, a new lunar month begins on the day after the full moon and ends on the full Moon. Therefore, the ides or middle of a lunar month would be the dark of the Moon day. The Moon disappears from the heavens at the end of the waning or Krishna fortnight; the day before the waxing or shukla fortnight. That day also occurs today because by the lunar calendar the tithi or phase is amavashya-tithi, or the dark moon day. So whether you are considering a month to mean the thirty days of a solar cycle or the nearly thirty days of the lunar round, we welcome you to the ides of March!

NADI LEAF PREDICTIONS FOR 2012 AND BEYOND”

Patita Pavana das Adhikary, Ed.

This edition of The Astrological Newsletter carries a series of predictions ostensibly taken from a collection of South Indian nadis. In the days of old, the great sages would ask their students to draw horoscopes and predictions upon wooden “leaves” or nadis detailing future events. Of course, the Bhriгу nadis are most famous, but I have also seen nadis from Shuka, Sapta-Rishi, Nandi, Sanat Kumar, etc. Naturally, I have no way to vouch for the authenticity of any of them, but from what I have understood from authorities, most are genuine, but there are forged specimens also. The one described hereunder has a mixed of a ring of truth with some obviously questionable elements. For example, nadi leaves do not speak of “the Western calendar” nor do they give dates from it. Neither do the nadis give modern country names like Bangaldesh.

Ultimately, however, the Bhagavat’s prediction about Kali becoming king has now come true, and it is up to devotees to take evasive actions. Our point is that there are bleak days ahead, and devotees must prepare for them according to Prabhupada’s directions. For example, I heard that a devotee fireman was killed in the World Trade Center. In Chile, the recent earthquake has demolished the ISKCON center there.

Regarding the “predictions”--call them what you like--below, in the 1990’s a German traveling in South India met one Pandit Ganesh Babu, a reader of nadis, who revealed a series of disturbing predictions regarding future events, spanning the bloody dawn of the 21st Century to around 2050. Whatever the circumstances behind the following, the subject matter of the world's future is of urgent importance. No one will deny that we have entered into an era of great crises.

We know that Washington, DC has never been shy about keeping citizens in the dark once the votes are counted as campaign promises dissolve. Srila Prabhupada in his rare but insightful comments on demonic politicians pointed to the “false flags” of the sinking of the Lusitania, the Viet Nam War and the colossal “Moon landing” hoax. False flags are staged events that have been orchestrated specifically to bring about particular changes. That means events favorable to keeping the demons in power and the giant corporations who own the politicians in the black. Such attempts at hoodwinking the public are nothing new. Colonial Britain used false flags in India so that a tiny minority could divide, conquer and enslave the teeming masses. The Reichstag fire, a ploy which Hitler used as an excuse for seizing power, is said to have been set under Hitler's despotic schemes. In the same way, America's motives for invading Iraq and Afghanistan, do not add up. America's War on Terror launched before the asbestos-laden clouds of dust settled over Manhattan falls way short of any reasonable arguments. Nothing about 11 Sept 2001 makes sense until, like a skeptical detective, you ask a few questions. Like, who stands to gain? And, what happens next now that every citizen has become a terror suspect in the tyrannical rise of the New World Order? Have Americans been tricked into voting for their own enslavement as a test pad for the rest of the world? It appears as though Rahu's little corporate soldiers have made a giant leap forward in their world stranglehold towards their incremental dark era of totalitarianism.

ECLIPSES: AND THE LOSS OF AMERICA AS WE ONCE KNEW IT

JULY 4TH 1776: For many, the signing of the Declaration of Independence marked the beginning of America as a country. Historians agree that this was carried out in the morning. The Moon changed from Capricorn into Aquarius at 8:04 am by topocentric (actual) positioning, which was 2hrs. 13min after Sunrise giving these disciplined and punctual men plenty of time. Since America reflects the qualities of Capricorn more than Aquarius, a socialistic sign, I have accepted Capricorn as the Moon sign of the nation.

Since 16 Aug 2008 there have been five eclipses in Capricorn, an extraordinary number of celestial foretellings that cannot be ignored:

Recent Eclipses in Capricorn

1. 2008 Aug 16: Partial Lunar Eclipse
2. 2009 Jan 26: Annular Solar Eclipse
3. 2009 Jul 07: Penumbral Lunar Eclipse
4. 2009 Aug 06: Penumbral Lunar Eclipse
5. 2010 Jan 15: Annular Solar Eclipse

No omen speaks of the work of Rahu more poignantly than an eclipse. Rahu is so vile that he attacks the very eyes of God, the Sun and the Moon by which the Lord blesses the earth with food and light. Rahu rules smoke and smoky situations, clandestine plots, things that encompass and ensnare through the most deceptive of measures. Hence, these five recent eclipses in Capricorn reveal a stunning array of problems for America. And as one government insider said (paraphrase) “If there are problems, you can bet that somebody upstairs caused them in order to invoke solutions advantageous to the powers that be.” The financial collapse, the depression, the loss of jobs, the smokescreen arguments over health care when hundreds of thousands are being mercilessly slaughtered by our own sons and daughters: all these are distressing. But considering that they are manipulated and that the fixes will be worse than the problem are causes for genuine concern. The time to take action is now.

At the end of the following essay on future events supposedly from the Sapta Rishi Nadi, I have suggested a few eye-opening documentaries that I consider worthwhile viewing. Bear in mind that none of the films offers a viable solution, even though each offers credible research in identifying problems. Neither are any of them alone, Srila Prabhupada eloquently addressed these issues in his earliest issues of Back to Godhead. And His Divine Grace also identified solutions so crucial that the very fate of the entire world hangs upon carrying out those instructions of Krishna’s representative.

First, there must be reinvigorated chanting of the holy names “in every town and village”. Sankirtan is the yuga dharma and there is no other yagna that will truly please the Supreme Personality of Godhead Lord Shri Krishna. This means visibly chanting Hare Krishna, clanging caratals, beating mridangas and distribution of literature in dhotis and saris. Second, devotees must make immediate plans to carry out Shri Guru Maharaja’s instructions regarding varnashram dharma. Our salvation will come in the form of an agrarian-based implementation of “simple living and high thinking” with no dependency on oil. When Krishna has given us Mother Earth, the cow and the bull to satisfy our needs, what is the use of man-made hells in the form of polluted cities?

Thanks for reading this, and we look forward to comments and feedback.

Yours in Krishna consciousness,
Patita Pavana das Adhikary, Ed.

The 21st Century

According to the Sapta Rishi Nadis

From the German original:

“Die Palmblattbibliotheken und ihre Prophezeiungen zur Zukunft Europas”

Translated by George Vodvárka.

According to legend, the library was created more than 5,000 years ago by seven holy rishis. They apparently wrote biographies of about 80,000 people who will come to ask their fate. About ten percent of these leaves apply to persons born out of India. In the course of centuries, several copies of the original text were done, so that today there are 12 libraries of palm leaves, located in different places of the Indian subcontinent.

These palm leaves each have a dimension of 6 x 46 cm. Written upon them are the fates of people who come to them to ask about the future life. The questioner’s fate is apparently recorded on both sides of the strip sheet palm. The letters are reportedly only about 1 mm high, and to the untrained eye, are not easily distinguishable. In these tiny letters one can find all the details of his life, including information of his parents and siblings, life partner and children, profession and certain physical characteristics and possible shortcomings. Modern concepts are sometimes figuratively translated. For example, the driver as a profession defined as “a vehicle manager”.

Sometimes in the palm sheet, the name of the person is recorded and also the names of his close relatives; if at the time of his visit still alive. In many sheets are written in advance and the date and name of the person who visits the library. According to von Buttlar the visitor usually is confronted with two sheets. The first give the name, details of his life as well as data on previous incarnation. If specific information relating to the life agrees, the Nadi interpreter reads from the second sheet also its future. There is the Bhrīgu- samhita and the Shuka Nadi.

According to an article in Magazine Esotera year 1992/8, Johannes von Buttlar says that the library in Bangalore stores 3,665 "bundles palm leaves", each of which consist of 365 palm leaves. The interpretation of palm leaves in the family apparently a tradition transmitted from father to the oldest son. The particular copies I analyzed with c14 system where 350 years old.

I started to investigate the nadi leaves in Feb of 1993 in libraries in Bangalore and Madras. From the palm leaf nadis, each person receives only the information which may help his personal spiritual growth. Just in case that his karma is one of active participation in the political life of the country and for helping the future; one receives the necessary information from the relevant volumes of palm leaves. There was some doubt initially raised in me in the context as to whether I have the right to publish the content of these prophetic texts palm leaves. In discussions with Ganesha Shastri and other interpreters of palm leaves in Madras and Bangalore, however, I came to the belief that it is my task in this life, to try to make this information accessible to as many people as possible. This obligation for me is already clear from the fact that I received an extraordinary honor and I could get these rare prophetic manuscripts.

These Bhrighu Nadi readings were done by Ganesha Babu Shastri to Thomas Ritter from old Tamil palm leaves in his Nadi center in Madras, on Sept 2001 the information is originally published in a book in German language in 2006, and then translated into Czech language.

READINGS

The palm leaf text volume "prophesied" contains forecasts concerning the further development of Europe and western hemisphere starting on second half of the 20th century. First, there was a chapter in general terms of essential features of the development of the western world in the coming decades. The following passages deals with the detail of the various aspects - politics, economy, social conditions, military conflicts and health problems. The preliminary information Mr. Shastrí gave me established the belief that the manuscript is only a small part of an originally much larger work. The very purpose of these is to warn of upcoming events that will have a global reach.

"...The eleventh day of the ninth month of 2001, according to the western calendar there will be a crime without precedent. The crime scene is a most important city of the east coast of the northern part of US continent: The goal of crime will become a great building, considered a symbol of the western world. The construction consists of two high towers. These towers attacked by vimanas (airplanes). Two of them are thrown directly to the tower and causes huge damage. The Towers tumble, but however, not due to the vimana's impact, but by deliberate and targeted explosions inside each of them. In the attack die thousands of persons. Millions of people worldwide will be shocked by the offense.

In the capital city of the country of this attack will be made one raid. The High command military forces quarters as attacked by heavenly arrow (a missile rocket - note. G. S.). The public will be informed that in the building (meaning the Pentagon - note. G. S.) will be found also a vimana. However, this is not true. Similarly, a false report said that hostile warriors abducted one vimana crew. However, passengers offered resistance and the vimana eventually falls in some uninhabited area. This vimana will actually be a shooting rocket, close to the summer place of the ruler of the country. The ruler of the state shortly afterwards accuses the conspirators of the Arab-European countries of the attack and proposes a war; this threat comes a little later.

He will be aware that the allegations raised are not based on truth. In fact, he will know in advance about the attacks, and on the preparations involving people in the area. Crime will not benefit the conspirators, but to he himself, and the people will be at that time doubtful whether his coming to power was done in a legal way. After the attack, however, this issue will not be addressed. The crime will fulfill its purpose. Rulers of the Western powers will have the opportunity to unleash several other wars, designed to promote their own power interests. These wars will be held seemingly in the name of peace, security and freedom.

(This scary reading I got the late afternoon on the 10th September 2001)

On the seventh day, the tenth month of 2001, according to Western U.S. calendar, war will begin against Afghanistan by deploying a large Air Force, by the ruler of the United States to justify the fight for freedom and security of their country. In fact, the U.S. gains control of the land and its resources. The U.S. accuses a local tribal chief and their military units. Afghanistan is a country torn for several decades and wars of armed conflicts. There's poverty, hunger, and disease. Words of the politicians on peace are just empty phrases; the country continues to suffer a civil war. Children can not play or go to school...Afghanistan was formally independent, with a free elected government, that government was not in fact dependent on foreign powers.

The United States participate in the military campaign in this country along with many other states. Description of events in Afghanistan continues in several other palm leaves. Initially it appears that the U.S. campaign is successful; however, their plans fail in the long-term. In the period from 2008 to 2012 U.S. gradually withdraws from Afghanistan and will have to admit its defeat.

In the eight month of 2002, Western calendar the east and the south of Germany will be affected by floods, which will extend to either surrounding countries. As a result of unusual reasons, there is an increase of the level of many rivers in eastern and southern Germany, so they flow out of their shores. Floods come quickly and unexpectedly. Causes considerable damage, destroy houses, bridges and communications.

Many people lose their homes and a large part of their property. However, due to the solidarity of other large populations and rapid action offices, the consequences of the flooding will not be too dramatic. It will take two to three years to fix the damages. The prophetic palm leaf manuscripts also inform that in Europe there is yet a pending a wave of terrorist attacks of an unseen scale. The eleventh day of the third month of 2004, according to Western calendar, in the capital of Spain there are several attacks, using explosives. The aim of the attacks will be urban vehicles. More than 200 people will die and several thousand will be injured.

In the last month of 2004, according to the Western calendar South East Asia will be affected by a huge disaster. Under the west of Sumatra island sea bed there is a strong earthquake. This earthquake causes a huge flood wave, which propagates to large coastal areas of Sumatra, Thailand, Bangladesh, India, Sri Lanka, the Maldives and even East Africa. Kills more than two hundred thousand people among them many foreigners, including from Europe. However, most affected will be the local population. Millions of people come on the roofs with all their assets. The report on this disaster, however, cause wave of solidarity throughout the world and to the affected area start flow-aid money, in kind donations, and rescue teams of doctors.

Germans will become donors, because they will still live the memory of the floods that hit their own country. Anyway the effects will last three years, before the worse of the disaster is healed. Much of the aid is not reaching the needy people, but will end be in the hands of the unjust, using them as goods for sale. Sumatra recovery will be very long, because the complicate civil war situation on the island. The submarine earthquake against the coast of Sumatra but will be only the first in a number of disasters, which incoming decades will affect not only Asia, but also other parts of the world.

For 2005, it contains other important forecasts: one week after some religious holidays of one of the two main Christian churches (the Easter means - note. author) the leader of the Church dies, which stood in the forefront of more than twenty years. (Pope John Paul II. Actually died on 2 April 2005 week after the Easter holidays.) His death will cause great sadness and participation among the believers of this church, but also other religions shows how much respect they acquired for this man. The successor of the deceased and the new head of the Christian Church becomes a man who for many years belonged to the earliest collaborators of the deceased and for many years held one of the highest offices of this Church. The new leader will be in functions surprisingly quickly, and the new man leads the church forward in the same spirit of the late predecessor.

The new main representative of the Church will come from Germany and its name will be "Blessed". And shall remain in the highest office for about eight years.

The manuscript future of Germany and Europe speaks about general disillusionment. People will elect a new leader, but he will be no better than their predecessors. The gap between the rich minority and the poor majority will continue to deepen, and to show up at a faster pace. More and more people will be without work. Their work will be done by machines. This shall not apply only in Germany, affects other European countries, in fact it will to some extent, a global problem. General people will be burdened by greater burden of taxes and various levies and charges. Owners of large factories and shops will have on the contrary, continuously growing profits, they will do what they want, living as in a fairy tale. The simple people will be seen as slaves and the new factories will be established only where it will be possible to pay the hungry low wages and the local rulers will receive rich gifts. Ordinary citizens will afford less and less and will be satisfied with cheap mass entertainment the institutions offer. They listen to music, watch TV and play computer games. (Here the terms are text interpretation formulations- footnote. author.)

Mass entertainment will be aimed at providing the minimum value. People will be presented a kind of a virtual reality, to forget how bleak for them is in reality the world in which they live, to make their daily life filled with existential worries, tolerable. People will pay attention to what will be free fun for them, to what is really important for them. This keeps them in a gross materialism; and the Mayic illusion will celebrate victory. As a result, a worse situation will continue to increase and make people uncertain. Many of them will realize that the system in which they live is ceasing to function properly. This will start major changes. Epoch called Kali -yuga reaches to an end and will be replaced by a better age, Satya-yuga. However, the end of Kali-yuga will be linked to large disturbances and the resistance of certain quarters against the new tendencies. Many people will loose perspective and use violent speech. These people are totally focused on the material values and will look backward instead of a forward view; they will complain of better times past and the future will appear for them as completely hopeless.

There is a call for a strong ruler who would eradicate all wickedness and punish properly the perpetrators. But a number of despotic rulers in European countries and Germany actually come to power because the wish by the people. This occurs in the years 2019 to 2046, Western calendar. However they soon realize that this solution is not proper. Gradually they begin to understand that a real change will be achieved only if they assume responsibility for their own lives and the lives of his closest people and neighbors.

This knowledge, however, will lead a long way, but even more will be required for the practical path of this knowledge. After a continued disintegration of values and social structures, positive social changes in Europe and Germany do not appear before 2048 Western calendar. Initially, the people will help itself, or even at the expense of others. Only when the situation becomes completely hopeless, they will realize that they can survive only if there is cooperation among all. Since public authorities will not be able to help, mutual assistance and solidarity between the families will be the distinctive characteristics of the new age.

THE END OF SUPER- CAPITALISM

Most European nations are part of the same political and economic system, like Germany. The EU Community was originally founded by six countries with the aim of improving conditions of the population by trade liberalization and industrial development production. Over time, other countries joined. There will be a common currency. However, the larger the EU becomes, the more difficult will be to govern it and achieve the objectives which the individual nations wish. The EU Community serves primarily the interests of powerful corporations.

In 2004, the Western calendar there is a further large extension of the community by a number of states of Eastern Europe joining. Until 1989 Western Calendar these countries lived under a completely different system and large part of their population is poor. New country members hope that their membership in the Union will bring greater prosperity. However, it remains only a hope. Powerful forces in the European Union control the situation only to be ruthlessly enriched. They all promise equality; however, for most people this will mean equality in poverty.

The ruling circles do not fulfill their promises at the end. While various European countries participate alongside the Americans in some military operations against oriental countries, ordinary citizens will begin the first public protests. In 2005 western European calendar, rulers try to enforce basic uniform laws for the whole community, but it fails. In two countries, the majority of people refuse this common law. (In a referendum organized in the Netherlands and in France people actually rejected the so-called European Constitution -- note. author.) This is caused a by prolonged crisis in which the system falls apart. Since the living conditions of people will deteriorate, the year 2004 by the Western calendar is becoming increasingly socially conflictive. On one hand, people seek refuge in the circle of family or close friends, on the other will be subject to spontaneous manifestations of discontent, that will often be directed against groups of foreign immigrants.

Since 2007 Western calendar there will be protests of people in general, mainly in large cities against the politics of the government and the powerful 'captains of industry. First it appears that these protests have the intended effect on the political leaders; finally however, it will be just a false impression. The situation will further deteriorate and governments will begin to lose control to ensure safety and public order. Economic situation will get worse as immigrant people will come to Europe in large numbers from other parts of the world, fleeing from crop failures, famine and civil war.

AFTER 2010

From 2011 western calendar, the crisis deepens since in the U.S. and in Europe money will lose its value fast. This will result in wrong economic and financial policies based on fake basis - on the assumption of hopes for a continuous economic growth. Influential circles in the U.S. and Europe believed for decades that the world is governed by the selfish benefit of some greedy people. However, people do not have knowledge of this and become victims of cruel illusion physical world game- Maya's veils. Earthly world is not infinite nor are its borders, or human happiness nor there unlimited economic growth.

In 2012 the U.S. financial system collapses. The state will no longer be able to pay its employees. This will lead to a chain response and chaos in the society as a whole. Many shops, factories and banks will become bankrupt, more and more people will be without work, and thus without livelihoods. In cities there will be social unrest and looting, and armed gangs in the countryside. People will die. The government tries to get the situation under control, deploying its army; however, it succeeds only partially. The economic situation leads to conditions that will resemble a civil war.

This situation will last until mid 2017. Then a military force from a friendly country from the north maintains order again. The riots will be the largest since the Civil War in the 19th century, but north and south will not fight against each other, but east and west United States. The decline of the U.S. economy and the depreciation of the U.S. currency seriously hits Europe, in particular Germany, which is largely dependent on exports. Inflation in Europe reaches proportions as in the United States, and its implications, especially for poorer sectors of the population, is catastrophic. Many people will live in real poverty. In big cities in Europe, unrest breaks out, there will be looting, and the aim of the attacks of the discontented crowds will be the public buildings and offices. The situation, however, is not as dramatic as in the U.S. because in Europe the private possession of weapons is not so widespread. The police and army maintain the situation fairly intact.

As a contrast, in America, soldiers and police go without payment, and will often revolt. In European capitals there is a storm, whose target are mostly foreigners who have settled in the past. Especially bloody fights break out in Paris, Rome, Madrid, London and Prague. In Rome, people attack and take the head seat of the Catholic Church. The Pope initially manages to flee, but later falls into the hands of rebels who trap him. The riots in Germany and Europe continue to autumn 2016, up to the intervention of Russian and Chinese troops, which will be solicited by European governments, as they will not be able to keep control. Least affected countries will be Russia, China and India, because their economic systems are mutually supportive.

MOTHER EARTH DEFENDS HERSELF

Since 2017 the situation will be somewhat calmer, but only seemingly. There will be new challenges and immediate dangers. While the war will be avoided, a changing climate becomes rapidly an acute threat. The average annual temperature will continue to increase. The Gulf current, which brings billions of tonnes of tropical waters to the north areas begin to lose strength and changes its direction. This will be due to the fact that the Atlantic Ocean gets huge quantities of fresh sweet water from the melting polar ice, as well as Antarctic Ice Sheet Polar Regions. As a result of this climate changes, there will be in the U.S. a disastrous drought affecting its south; while in China in some areas there will be extensive floods. Scandinavia transforms into an ice desert, while coastal countries will be threatened by rising sea level such as Netherlands and Bangladesh. Millions of hungry refugees will leave their homes and seek asylum in richer countries. These events occur from 2029 to 2034 Western calendar.

Ice storm will slash areas of northern Europe, devastating storms and floods affecting coastal states. Forests will die low areas of the coast of Northern and the Baltic Sea freeze and becomes a tundra. Dramatic changes in climatic conditions throw nations and their governments in a desperate situation. A lack of fuel will erode progressive international cooperation and peace agreements. Again armed conflicts breaks out, all continents will be desolated by a war of raw materials and foodstuffs. Within a few years, the world comes on the border of a total anarchy.

Countries with unstable governments, like Pakistan in a desperate struggle for raw materials and foodstuffs will have temptations to use its nuclear arsenal. In 2029 there may be another war between Pakistan and India. There is a greatest danger threatening the two fighting parties to deploy nuclear weapons, which would result in complete devastation of large areas of India and Pakistan.

As Central European countries will not have enough sufficient strategic stocks, the authoritarian rulers decide to deploy lethal gases in order to reduce the population. The overcrowding as a result of the influx of immigrants from all over the world, becomes a large problem and the political leaders will considered it the main cause of existing problems. Especially Great Britain will widely use gas to bring a quick and painless death. However, due to the extensive cooling of the earth's atmosphere, which is due to the collapse of Gulf Stream, and the glaciation of large areas of North America and Scandinavia, it will take several years for the Gulf current to start to circulate again.

After this, there is a certain stabilization climatic conditions. This happens from the year 2035. Gradually, agricultural yields improve, the harvest will be richer and there is a pacification of the social unrest. Moreover, in years when the world is affected by natural disasters a political confusion, epidemic diseases break out again, which are considered as already eradicated. Millions of people falls victim as a result of poor sanitary conditions, caused by a civil war that will rage epidemics of plague and cholera. Global climate change in turn causes health problems of another kind. Especially in Africa and Asia, but also in some areas of Europe more intense solar radiation produced upon the skins of both humans and animals in the form of tumors.

After 2018, another strange disease will kill hundreds of thousands of human lives in U.S., Europe, Asia the infected person easily gets ill by normal diseases such as colds, as their organism, is unable to deal with them. Death usually arrives within three days. (Ganesh Babu Sastri called the disease by an English acronym RISC - Rapid Immune System Collapse, the accelerated collapse of the immune system - author's note) In most cases the disease causes death. After the year 2023 in Europe, some African refugees bring a fatal disease called Kunu. Weak people get a high fever and their internal organs cease to work in a few days. The sickness will be deadly and will spread as fast as flu. But two years before the outbreak of the epidemic, they will discover the parasite worms in the blood. Internal organs get affected, especially the heart and liver; and the infected person dies within a week. This disease is transmitted by animal food.

The biggest disaster happens in 2046. Although unnoticed by astronomers, closer to our planet a planet will approach from the depths of space. This asteroid, whose path in space enters in our solar system, between earth and the Moon, will just miss the earth. Several days before, the asteroid becomes visible in the sky to the naked eye.

The gravitational force causes many earthquakes and massive flooding on the earth. California will be affected by its largest earthquake in their entire history. Also Japan and China will be affected by strong earthquakes and large parts these countries will be covered by ocean water. Earthquakes will also affect Europe, mostly Germany, England and the Mediterranean area. Over the coast of Northern and Baltic Sea there is a huge flood wave. In Bohemia a volcano wakes up to life, considered long ago as extinct. Its eruptions will spread far wide. During the eruption there will also be released large amounts of volcanic and poisonous gaseous clouds of condensate rain and the lands will become very corrosive. As a result of the wounds, millions of people will be killed. In affected areas of Central Europe large part of cities will be destroyed.

THE WORLD AFTER 2048

Immediately after this disaster, those who survive, will be cleaning up and doing disinfection work, as it will be necessary to remove mountains of corpses human and animal carcasses to avoid new epidemics. There will be a large demand for daily needs that was destroyed or lost, due to natural disasters.

The climate changes in Central Europe will stay permanently. The average annual temperature will remain high and the snow in winter will be only in mountainous areas. For agriculture the change will be advantageous, there will be richer harvest, and yields will increase. The tectonic activity changes the face of the whole Earth.

Some coastal areas and islands will disappear permanently below the level of the seas and oceans. Japan will be particularly affected, California, Eastern coast of North America and certain areas of England. At the same time, from the water of the Atlantic Ocean emerges new land. Economic rehabilitation will take place relatively quickly. However the brake will be the lack of primary energy sources, as many of the raw materials will not be easily available.

After this, the economy starts to recover. At that time in Europe a new society will be formed, based on the personal freedom of individuals, which in turn will be linked to the needs of society and to meet its needs. People will learn a lesson by the recent events and becomes aware that selfish motives can endanger the very existence of the whole community. A new society will spread from the Atlantic coast to the east coast of Asia; and each of the areas, however, retain their own characteristics. All regional matters will be decided by local governments without having to wait for the authorization of a remote authority.

The new constitution will guarantee all citizens of a Eurasian Union, external safety and internal sovereignty. The economic base of the new society will be a non-interest financial system which will be tested and then permanently established in year 2048. [Note: Arab Bank lends money interest-free now, because the Koran forbids taking interest; banks instead of account only for fees for processing the loan conditions and accounting. Incidentally, the Bible also prohibits lending money at interest.]

The prosperity of the new society will be maintained by the use of a particular kind of an alternative energy source. This source was discovered in Europe and studied the beginning of the 20th century, but its practical wide application comes now. This energy will be named after its discoverer. This energy does not harm the environment as previously used energy sources. It will also be available to almost an unlimited extent and its use will be free. Soil and water resources will not be kept as private properties. People will realize that no one can claim proprietorship for something that already previously existed. However, everyone will have the right to have ownership of a house, whether bought or built.

After 2049 people will have knowledge that they are not alone in the universe. Repairing the damage caused by natural disasters in Europe and the Middle East, artifacts will be found, which will clearly demonstrate to the public their extraterrestrial origin. This discovery will have far-reaching impact on religious and philosophical systems. The period since 2049 bears a sign of a new beginning, a spiritually-oriented age forthcoming Satya-yuga.

Whether or not the above predictions are reliable, I cannot say, except where they coincide with Srila Prabhupada's prophetic description of a mini-Satya Yuga, the worldwide spread of Krishna consciousness. They are passed along to you as a matter of general interest in order to stimulate your understanding of the great need for devotees to find a safe environment in the coming crises. What we know is that the cities and the artificially-created oil-dependent "prosperity" must come to an end, and end--sooner rather than later. Alongside these harsh realities, shadow governments are vying for world domination using so-called elected "fall-guys" to play "world leaders".
